This pair of two bay wide, two story high buildings stand in the middle of a row, sharing a common airy-way. Built of brick laid in common bond, the elevations of the houses parody each other. First floor openings have been filled with concrete.

Built on a low, windowless brick base, the steps which led to the entrance on the left at 1014 have been removed. First floor openings have flat splayed brick arches. Second floor openings and airy-way have wooden sills. A brick cornice runs at the line of the gabled roof, and squat rectangular chimneys rise from the right party wall at front and rear.

1016 Peach is a parody of 1014, except that its chimneys are covered with brick arches. The roofs of the structures are covered with tarpaper.
